

PEACHY JOKE is composed by five young Basques who have recently located their base camp in Barcelona. From there, they have released their second album, "Kindergarten's Flight" (2010), supervised as his first work "The Grey Reveille" by Hans Kruger.

Peachy Joke with their new themes proposes more rhythmic sounds that are prepared for life concerts.

In his music the Rock & Roll predominates clearly. They have influences from 60's and 70's and they look like The Who, Led Zeppelin and David Bowie. But they provided a current sound, which points toward more modern directions as The White Stripes, Jet or Wolfmother.
